

Greetings from the Collegiate Brothers of the Epsilon Sigma Chapter of Sigma Nu at Rhodes College! My name is Brendan Finley and this is Epsilon Sigma's fourth newsletter. I hope this letter finds you and your family in the best of health.

In addition to several upcoming opportunities to reconnect with other alumni and current members of the Chapter, one of which is mentioned below, there are now several easy ways you can share information about yourself with the Chapter and several ways you can get involved. We hope reading this letter brings back good memories of your collegiate experience with Sigma Nu, convinces you to take the time to update your personal information with the Chapter, and gets you thinking about how much the Chapter can benefit from your involvement—no matter how great or little.

Events

Last spring the Chapter held an alumni fish fry event. This year we will be having our Second Annual Fish Fry event on Saturday April 26th. Aside from offering lunch for all Alumni and family present, at around 1:00 p.m. all the Collegiate and Alumni Brothers will have a chance to congregate in the Chapter Room of the House to raise the Chapter and perform the Meeting portion of the Ritual. Come catch up with old friends, reminisce about the good times you had in Sigma Nu, discover the recent successes of the Chapter, and establish a personal connection with the brothers once again. The cost to attend will be $10 per adult; Thank you to all the alumni who could make it a success last year, and we will be looking forward to seeing them again this spring.

Jamie Augustine, and Tim Gibson for your contributions to the Chapter!

Grades

The Chapter continues to maintain a strong academic performance level. This past semester's GPA was a 3.0. The high grades are mostly because of the New Academic Policies and the LEAD Program. They have been the most important tools used by the Chapter to increase the Average Term and Cumulative GPAs

Rush

Recently the chapter has initiated a year-round recruitment strategy in order to maintain its strong recruitment goals. As a result of this strategy the chapter was able to successfully secure a pledge class this spring. Pictured to the left is the spring pledge class of 2008.
